Washington News.

WASHINGTON April 22 —The President to day transmitted to the Senate a copy of the counter case of the United States in the matter of claims against Great Britain presented to the Board of Arbitration at Geneva The case sets out the question from the fourth article of the Treaty of Washington providing for filing the counter case by each party and in accordance with which the United States filed their counter case with additional documents evidence etc It premises by saying that they do not consider it within the province of the document to discuss all propositions made or the positions taken or the contestations of matters of fact in the British case referring to the original case of the United States for an expression of views on these points, and preferring to leave their discussion to an argument to be prepared by them, and a submission under the oral article of the treaty, and to such oral arguments, if any, as the tribunal may hear on the acts of the Flor da Alabama Shenandoah and Georgia, and calls attention to the fact that claims growing out of the acts of other vessels named in the American case are regarded as embraced within the terms of the treaty and in fact they are so regarded Further, it must have been known to the British Government before the Joint High Commission was appointed The Commissioners while they wished to hear reserving their rights and the freedom of the counsel in these respects they ask the attention of the tribunal to some of the main points of defence between the two cases

London Dispatches

LONDON, April 22 —The Duke of Richmond in the House of Lords and Disraeli in the House of Commons, gave notice to-night that they should question the Government as to whether it was prepared to give the country assurance that further proceedings before the Geneva Board will be suspended unless the claims for indirect damages are withdrawn and abandoned by the United States

In the upper House of Lords Avonmore wanted all the papers produced and also the minutes of the conversations accompanying the presentation of the British counter case to the Geneva Board This record, it is believed would prove humiliating to the country He declared that it was degrading to ask the American Government any question as to the propriety of our presenting the counter case

Granville replied that there had been no degrading thing done He described his conversation with Schenck, the American Minister, as entirely personal Schenck agreed to ask the Washington Government its views as to the propriety of the presentation by Great Britain of her counter case and the accompanying documents at Geneva To this inquiry no answer had been received

Another petition is in circulation for a daily mail, Sundays included, between Monticello and Olympia at the latter place

They keep flour in "curiosity" shops at Olympia for a certain time, we presume), and then give it away to newspaper editors for a puff The fashion has not yet reached Portland

Some of the Olympia preachers are praising themselves up in long articles to San Francisco papers Bad taste, says an Olympia paper The Portland Advocate at one time had similar articles from the same place

The firm of Messrs Hanson, Ackerson & Co , of the Tacoma (W. T) Mills, turn out 50,000 feet of lumber per day. The lumber fleet of the firm now consists of the ship Dashing Wave, of 1 054 tons burthen, the ship Shirley, of 1,049 tons, and the bark Samoset, of 600 tons Last week the Shirley and Samoset were loading at these mills with lumber for San Francisco.

A Vancouver dispatch says that reports received at that place contradict our published telegram of Monday evening in regard to Garfielde's success at the County Convention at Olympia So, according to the latest, the "band" is not "still playing" We would like to know that some good man is ahead, and we don't care who he is, but we would like our friends to give us the straight of the matter when they send us telegrams for publication

By a private letter from Lummi Indian Reservation, Washington Territory, we are informed that the Indians at that place are very industrious, being mostly engaged in agriculture, and their crops the present season will compare favorably with those of the whites in that section They also have a good stock of cattle and horses. Much credit is due the pastor, Superintendent and gentleman in charge for the advancement these Indians have made in the scale of civilization They have a neat Catholic church, and are beginning to observe many of the forms and ceremonies of the Christian religion

The Seattle Dispatch says "Edwin A Sherman, Deputy Inspector General of the Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, completed his labors on Puget Sound by constituting Washington Consistory of Sublime Princes of the Royal Secret of the Thirty second Degree of the Scottish Rite of Masonry, in this city, and installing its officers He has communicated the degrees and organized no less than fifteen bodies of the Rite since his arrival in Washington Territory on the 6th day of March last, and his labors have been arduous and unremitting from the beginning "

POLITICAL NOTES.

A Western editor says that "the bushwhackers all over Missouri and the borders of Kansas are sticking their heads out of the brush, and calling themselves 'Liberal Republicans' "

The New York Times well says that "the Democratic party in the State where it was strongest produced Tammany." We wish Tipton would properly present this fact before the Cincinnati Convention for discussion

The New York Commercial Advertiser, speaking of the call for a meeting of the so-called Liberals of that city, says The twenty signers of the New York invitation are, with one exception, angered and baffled place hunters.

"There are but two parties in this contest," remarks the New York Herald, "the Democrats and the Republicans Any third party is an intrigue, Grant is the chosen leader of one, some good Democrat will be the chosen leader of the other "

The spectacles of two justices of the Supreme Court of the United States touting for Presidential nominations is anything but edifying, and is, indeed, bringing the Court into such discredit that a third justice has felt compelled to deny that he is looking after the Presidency

Ex Governor Claflin, of Massachusetts, in accepting the position of vice president of the Grant Club says "I accept the position, believing that the club represents the almost unanimous opinion of the people of the Commonwealth in its advocacy of the re election of Gen Grant, "

Governor Jewell of Connecticut, received the following dispatch from President Grant "Governor Marshall Jewell—Accept my hearty congratulations for the indorsement Connecticut has given you for past services and for her unshaken confidence in the party of freedom and progress "

Gov Parker continues dumb He would rather run for President on the straight Democratic ticket, with every prospect of defeat, than play second fiddle to Judge Davis with a reasonable hope of success For this reason he is as silent as a clam , and silence becomes him better than speech

Asks an Indiana journal—"How would it sound for a Democrat to shout Hurrah for Davis?" To which a Republican ed tor responds - "Prefix Jeff to it and it would be the most natural sound in the world " It is just as likely that the Democrats will shout 'Jeff" as that they will sing songs of praise for 'David '

It is a Democratic principle now if any such thing as a Democratic principle is in existence that Presidents shall be elected for but one term That is progress—a sign of life, for the Democratic party almost invariably re elected its Presidents or else tried to and didn't commence killing Presidents for the offence of re election till 1865

The New York Commercial Advertiser says "The report that General Grant is delaying the spring weather in order to damage the interests of Democratic farmers is sharply denied by the Pittsburg Gazette We are prepared to support this denial by positive proofs that the President is not in collusion with the Meteorological Department at Washington

The Boston Post hears that an Atlanta rooster which was beheaded sixteen days ago is not only still alive but crows vigorously at intervals. "It is said the Post has dispatched a 'commissioner' to get some fowls of this breed Maine and New Hampshire have kilt its former breed entirely, and it wants something to crow after its party gets another beheading in Connecticut "

The following from the Washington Capital is perhaps the most precise statement of the programme of the Cincinnati Convention that has yet been given The coming month of May is to witness the collection at Cincinnati of a body of gentlemen of political and party thoughts intent whose mission will be to do or not to do, to decide or not to decide upon something '

Speaking of the Connecticut election and the defeat of Mr Hubbard, the candidate of the Democrats an exchange says

"We rejoice as we have a right to this great victory of the Republicans in Connecticut We commiserate the Democracy and their candidate in failing to partake at the political feast There is hunger in their household and not a scrap in the pantry

Did Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard
To get her poor [illegible]
When she got there the cupboard was bare,
And then [illegible] had none

The Hartford Courant says "A Republican Legislature working in harmony with a Republican Governor saves money to the State In the years that the Democrats have elected the Governor, expenses have been increased During the last six years we have had three years of united Republican rule and three years in which the governor men has been Democratic Under a clean Republican administration the legislative and contingent expenses were $216 185 48 With a Democratic Governor in the other three years, the expenses have been up to $262 155 87, showing that the people have paid $44 870 39 for the luxury of electing a Democrat It is too costly and will not be repeated "

Minnesota has acquired a great reputation for its healthy climate, but it seems to be a providential dispensation that no mundane abiding place shall be without its drawbacks. Pure water is getting scarce in that vigorous young State this season, and it is discovered that the fluids that fill its lakelets is unwholesome both for drinking and for culinary purposes.

The Chicago Tribune sagely concludes that "the Democratic party has determined to lay down its life " We are somewhat surprised at this, seeing that it hadn't enough to be burdensome.

FURTHER EVIDENCE OF SKILL.

A Pea Successfully Extracted from the Ear, after having been imbedded against the Drum of the Ear for Eight Months.

PORTLAND April 8 1872.

To the Public

I hereby certify to the skill of Dr Aborn in the treatment of my son In August last he got a large pea into his ear Physicians were applied to without success The pea soon caused inflammation and a fungus growth spread over the pea and filled up the entire ear, and of late a bloody discharge oozed from the ear and I became greatly alarmed about his perilous condition After satisfying myself that Dr Aborn was a skillful surgeon in all such cases I applied to him, on Wednesday last, with my son, and placed him under his care He destroyed the fungus growth so as to make a passage back to the pea and on the fourth day he succeeded in removing all the fungus growth and disease of the ear Then by the aid of his scientific instruments we could plainly see the pea embedded against the drum of the ear The pea was removed the same evening, without pain The hearing in that ear which was destroyed is now, by his treatment restored so that he can hear a watch tick. Only for the timely aid of the skill of Dr Aborn I feel satisfied that my son would have lost his life It was through the card of Capt Pease that I applied to Dr Aborn, so I give this card to the public with the view that it may be the means of benefiting some one

WEDNESDAY MORNING APRIL [illegible]

A New Position

T[illegible] h[illegible] the [illegible] ... tried ... hard ... [illegible] ... nothing ... at ... what ... getting ... has been ... That paper ... admits that its position in regard to ... railway rights and franchises ... supreme ... much therefore is established But the Herald now attempts a change of base ... that the railroads possess ... rights and powers as we have shown them to possess under the highest law of the State it ... they were taken away and it proposes to annul the provision of the Constitution which guarantees them

This is another sort of proposition If there is necessity for it, why hasn't the thing been proposed sooner? You have had the Legislature for two sessions and no such proposition has been heard of Had it been deemed necessary and practicable we should certainly have heard something of it long before now In order to show how the thing may be done the Herald presents the case of slavery as a supposed precedent It says

> The people of the Southern States a few years ago had vested rights in negro slavery Those rights were hedged around by constitutional barriers and guarantees, which all men were bound to respect But did they respect them? Did the OREGONIAN respect and defend those vested rights,' which were protected by the Constitution? Did it not, on the contrary justify the merciless invasion of those vested rights

The answer to all this is very simple Slavery rebelled It renounced its constitutional rights and guarantees and made war on the Government under which those rights were secured to it All men respected those rights until they were renounced by those who claimed the benefit of them After that slavery had no rights. Why talk of upholding constitutional guarantees in favor of those who make war on and seek to destroy the very Constitution without which these rights would have no existence?

We have not heard of similar conduct on the part of any incorporation possessing rights under the Constitution of our State We have heard of no rebellion There are no rumors of war Nobody is threatened and nobody hurt Rates of transportation here, as we have shown by comparison with rates elsewhere, are reasonable They are not as low as we could wish, but we can't travel for nothing, neither can we buy a beefsteak with the same change Then what has this whole matter to do with our present political canvass? Nothing whatever As an issue it has no more vitality than the great Chinese question' of two years ago It has no more to do with a political canvass than with the procession of the equinoxes

A Wider System.

From time to time we have written articles designed to show that permanent industrial prosperity in this State could not be attained by adherence to a restricted and narrow industrial system. In other words, that while agricultural industry was one of the essentials of growth, it was not to be made the sole reliance, and that it must be assisted and reinforced by other forms of productive industry. All experience shows that a merely agricultural and pastoral people cannot become great and prosperous and rich. To rely on the production and exportation of grain, and to import in return the multitude of manufactured articles which are necessary to comfort and to civilization is a policy the poorest that can be imagined. We may see fresh proofs of this if we now look around us

Last year we had an unusually large crop of grain, and received for it a price exceptionally high It was supposed that much would be added to the permanent wealth of the State by this good fortune But the good was overestimated. The money received by our farmers for their grain has already mostly gone out of the State Very little of it has been employed in adding improvements and contributing to permanent wealth among us It has gone to pay for labor profitably employed in other industries elsewhere Those who have sold to us manufactured goods have reaped their share of the harvest We are helping to sustain them, while we make but little progress ourselves

The lesson is that we must have a diversified industry of our own Productive industry takes innumerable forms Agriculture is but a single branch of it To have prosperity and growth we must have employment for labor in profitable industries We purchase abroad too many things that might be produced at home The secret of progress is to reverse this policy A new system will come, and it should be the study of all to hasten it

A terrible earthquake occurred in Syria on the 3d inst. The city of Antioch was almost wholly destroyed and fifteen hundred of the inhabitants perished Thousands were injured and rendered homeless Antioch, the ancient capital of Syria is situated on the Orontes about 60 miles from Aleppo Its foundation dates back three hundred years before Christ It was called by Pliny the 'Queen of the East' It once contained a population of 200 000 But it had dwindled during these later times to the miserable figure of 6 000 In the year 526 it was visited by an earthquake the most disastrous in history Thousands on thousands of strangers had visited the city to be present at the Feast of the Ascension It is estimated that a quarter of a million of people perished The city has sustained many seiges and terrible famines Numerous earthquakes have depopulated it both in early and later times It was taken by the Crusaders in 1098 and held for many years. The walls of the ancient city enclose an area of several square miles and were from twenty to seventy feet high

The Committee appointed to investigate the sales of arms about which Mr Sumner and others made so great a noise have concluded their report They find that the sales were fully authorized by the act of July 1868 and that the Secretary violated it neither in letter nor spirit that the proceeds of the sales were promptly paid into the treasury that no sales were made to any known agent of either of the belligerent governments and no act was done calculated to interfere with any international obligation and that no one of the United States was personally benefitted in connection with the sales that the only party benefitted was the Government of the United States in disposing of unsuitable arms at the highest prices aggregating nearly $10 000 000 So the whole affair ends and with it the most malicious and unfair of all the attempts to break down Gen Grant

Mr Greeley on General Grant

Mr Greeley is now a bitter opponent of General [illegible] The Democratic and reaction[illegible] elements rely greatly on Mr Greeley's ability to [illegible] at General Grant and place the Government in their hands In Mr Greeley's opinion General Grant is a very [illegible] man to be President [illegible] the philosopher of the Tribune had different ideas before he fell out with General Grant because the latter was not pliable enough in the matter of making appointments We [illegible] which Mr Greeley wrote ... General Grant ... published in the [illegible] prior to this ... disagreement

[illegible]

... General Grant ... to the Presidency a great number of those who had supported his election with some who had not sought office at his hands or expected him to bestow it unasked He was unable to gratify their aspirations Most of those who ... office claimed that they gave him their votes some of these he saw fit to retain while the laws of which he is the servant required him to reduce materially the cost of the public service and the number employed in it

Our great civil war had rendered necessary a large increase of minor functionaries the settlement of claims to pensions etc had excused the retention of hundreds in place up to the close of Mr Johnson's term but now law and justice alike demanded that they be dismissed to their own very general disgust Their lamentations mingled with the howls of the disappointed made up a doleful dissonance whereof the only meaning deducible runs thus General Grant is found wanting—his Administration is a failure

Failure How? in what? Have we not peace and plenty in the land? Is not our flag displayed and respected on every sea? What foreign foe molests or threatens us? Who fears insurrection at home or invasion from abroad? In which of our thirty six States are the masses wanting work, discontented suffering?

Consider our financial condition Nearly every State and municipality paying off debts incurred in raising men for the war while the national debt has been reduced nearly thirty millions in the four months that General Grant has had his hand on the helm The public expenditure is falling off on every side while the revenue is up to high water mark Even Indian wars if unavoidable must be considerably reduced in cost by the facilities for moving troops and stores afforded by our two Pacific Railroads

Yes General Grant has failed to gratify some eager aspirations and has thereby incurred some intense hatreds These do not and will not fail and his Administration will prove at least equally vital We shall hear lamentation after lamentation over his failure from those whose wish is father to the thought but the American people let them pass unheeded Their strong arms bore him triumphantly through the war and into the White House, and they still uphold and sustain him They never failed and never will!

An Estimate of Mr Burnett

Of Mr Burnett, Democratic candidate for Congress in this State, Beriah Brown has no exalted opinion This is what the said Brown says in his Seattle Dispatch of the said Burnett

> As a citizen in his own limited sphere in life Mr Burnett is unexceptionable As a Representative in Congress of a State of the coming importance and large interests of Oregon, he would be simply a nonentity a shame and disgrace to the intelligence of the people of that State Any intelligent man in the State who had important business to transact in Washington would never dream of selecting him as an attorney to attend to such business, or either of the three others who entered the Convention as competitors for the nomination
> It has come to this that men are selected by party Conventions for the highest offices in the land who have not the capacity to achieve distinction or credit in the ordinary avocations of life Mr Burnett has grown up to manhood in a rural district of Oregon where he has enjoyed few advantages of education and but very limited intercourse with men from whom he would be likely to learn much which would fit him for the important trust of member of Congress Of the conventionalities of refined society he is almost totally ignorant, and in the social intercourse which the office to which he aspires would necessarily force upon him he would be entirely out of his depth, and consequently without influence

This is 'blamed severe' Here is what is said in the same article of the Republican candidate

> The Republican nominee Mr Wilson is not a great man but would make by far the most respectable Representative and when it comes to the alternative between State interests and party feeling the former should dominate

The State of Oregon not only got swindled out of $75 000 in the Locks affair but it is paying interest at 7 per cent on the amount of the swindle This is $5 250 a year The bonds are to run for ten years and the aggregate of interest will be $52 500 Total amount of the swindle $127 500 'Democracy costs something The lock game is a bad one for the people The operators are using this money to get a Legislature which will give them another grab

Why don't Sir Charles Dilke surrender his title? Is English republicanism so weak as to need the strengthening savor of nobility or is Sir Charles but a reformer of the same dilettante stamp as the French counts and marquises who faintly favored the principles of the French revolution while as yet those principles were embodied in theory alone To investigate the Queen's bracelets is a small proceeding but if Sir Charles were to make himself plain Mr Dilke so practical a proof of Republican simplicity would ring through out England and this country as well

The question of shipments of grain in bulk from the West to Europe by way of the Mississippi river may now be considered as satisfactorily solved It has been pretty fully demonstrated that grain shipped in this manner can be carried cheaper and quicker than from New York counting the time and cost of shipment from the interior The traffic is apparently destined to attain large dimensions Twelve iron vessels constructed for the specific purpose of carrying grain are it is understood, to be placed at an early day on the line between New Orleans and Liverpool It seems not unlikely within a few years New Orleans may become the principal port in the United States for the exportation of grain and corn to Europe

CITY.

CRUELTY TO TEAMS.—A merciful man is merciful to his beast so says the book of books, and some of those who drive teams about the city do not belong to that class we think. We have several times alluded to the cruelty to which many of the horses attached to drays and wagons are often compelled to draw loads far beyond their strength. In a few days we have at various times witnessed struggling teams which made no good of the task and have been obliged to pull up a steep grade a load of which ought to exact from them the utmost not of the horse is one of the most noble animals, and he should not be taxed beyond his strength to labor for his master any more than a hired man. One driver yesterday made his team pull a heavy load of lumber up the steep grade at the foot of Stark street. After many unsuccessful attempts he had to unload and was compelled to unhitch and hitch on double teams at last to get to the wagon and double teams at last to get to the street. Another teamster made a similar attempt at the same place with a load of shingles and after a shameful amount of brutality to his team, he was obliged at last to unload a portion of his load. We boast of our civilization and Christianity and yet we often witness inhuman cruelty to dumb animals. A society for the prevention and punishment of such crimes ought to be organized. Who will be the first to move in the matter? Other cities have such societies and why should not Portland also?

FROM THE FRONT.—The following is an extract from a letter recently received from Roseburg: We have just finished locating as far as the mouth of Cow creek and have now backed up to do some repairing and fix the road for the grading gangs. The work is pressing as we expect that the grading will soon be commenced, so that our expedition up the creek will have to be deferred for the present. To-day (16th inst.) we have moved camp eight miles, a ladder running a line over the famous "Roberts' Hill," famous for bad ground to work on and for the stage company for bad roads. To avoid this hill the rail road will run over the steepest of it. The good condition of the road is already showing its effects in the time in which the mails come in. The weather has been rather unpleasant, but just suits the farmers. Cold showers and then a dash of snow, by which we know that winter has not yet entirely passed. But many days are bright and warm, and flowers are seen everywhere.

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY BALL.—The various Odd Fellow Lodges of Portland contemplate celebrating the 53d anniversary of the introduction of that order in the United States at Oro Fino Park, on Friday the 26th inst. It will be observed with the usual ceremonies, etc., of that order. The exercises of the day will conclude by a grand ball to be given at the Masonic Hall in this city on Friday evening. The following gentlemen compose the Committee of Arrangements—F. A. Bancroft M Koshland; Committee C. C. Phillips, O. Humphrey, Dr J. Kenworthy A Bartsch, Wm Braden S W Ravely J Wm McCabe and E Legrand. Extensive arrangements have been made, and no pains have been spared to render be a the grand ball a social re union among the fraternity, and a pleasurable occasion to all invited guests. Good music has been secured for the day.

A NUISANCE.—That portion of Second street, between Alder and Morrison to which this paper several times directed the attention of the public, has, by order of the Chief of Police, been cleaned from its filthy condition, and the sanitary conditions enforced. While speaking of this subject we may add that there are other places in this city where the general health and comfort of adjacent residents would be improved by a strict enforcement of the ordinance concerning matters of filth and nuisance. Warm weather will soon be upon us and the officer whose duty it is to look after such affairs should strictly enforce the ordinance. Cleanliness is next to godliness.

"JANE WEST."—This is the name of a small steamboat which is now lying at the foot of Washington street. She was completed about a week ago at Westport, and is owned by Mr Jno West, of that place. This little craft will be used in connection with the salmon fisheries at that place. The Jane West is a snug craft and looks as if she could plough the raging waters of the lordly Columbia like thing of life or a scared cayote. The machinery of the Lot Whitcomb (the first steam boat which navigated the waters of the Wallamet) has been used in her, and the old hull of the Eagle has been utilized.

GARDENS.—There appears to exist an active demand for small pieces of land adjacent to the city suitable for gardens. We learn that an old German purchased a few days since a tract of land about three miles from the Court House in a southwest direction from the city. The piece of land contained thirteen acres and is to be used as a garden. He paid one hundred dollars per acre. A good price considering the great distance from the city, and that the ground was uncultivated and covered with brush.

BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS.—Police Commission met last evening at the usual hour. Present Messrs and Burke. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The petition of H. J. Twomey and others, for the appointment of a night watchman was read. It appearing that on the strength of the number of names attached to the petition a commission be issued to H. J. Twomey, authorizing him to act as special policeman. The motion was carried. The Board then adjourned.

HIGH WATER.—It is reported that the Columbia river is steadily rising. From the amount of snow which fell last winter in the mountains it is safe to predict a high stage of water this summer. An old settler warrants the prediction that if the clouds pass away and rains cease a long spell will be upon us. If such should be the case it would be well for all animals which have fins and webs to roost high, for the Columbia and Wallamet will be "booming."

NUMBER OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.—According to the report of the School Superintendent made at the adjourned school meeting the other night, there are in Portland about 2,600 children. Of this number, 1,150 attend the public schools and 600 attend the various private schools. It is estimated that about 500 children attended no school during the last year.

ANOTHER LOCOMOTIVE.—Another large locomotive for the Oregon and California Railroad was brought up on the bark Helunet on which reached this port yesterday. This locomotive will be called the "J. Ivan," and is one of the largest that has been on the road. It will be taken to the shops as soon as practicable, burnished up and placed in running order.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Levy Leland the temperance man of Oregon City delivered a lecture last evening at Odd Fellows' Hall Last Portland to a large audience. This lecturer is represented to be a very fluent and eloquent speaker. A choir lent zest and animation to the occasion by discoursing some appropriate music.

TAKEN TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—Thomas Reynolds Deputy Sheriff of Marion county brought down on yesterday evening's train an insane woman named Amelia E Beattie who was sent to the asylum by the County Judge. Some years ago she was an inmate of this institution.

GEN. RUFUS SAXTON.—This officer will leave for New York to-morrow for the east. He will probably reach here about the 5th of next month. His numerous military and personal friends of Portland will be happy to welcome him on his return after a pleasant visit to the East.

TEMPERANCE CONCERT.—The members of the new lodge of the Good Templars of East Portland propose to give a vocal and instrumental concert at some place not yet indicated.

POSTPONED.—The preliminary examination of the case of the State vs J M ... charged with forgery was postponed until this forenoon at 10 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE EMMET GUARD CALICO BALL.—Philharmonic Hall was beautifully decorated last evening with flags tastefully arranged on the walls, interspersed with pictures and evergreens, adding an attractive appearance to the gay scene which was enacted by the Emmets' and their friends. Prof Cordes led the excellent music while Graham figured. Enjoyment reigned supreme, and when our amusement reporter took his departure numbers were arriving to participate in the festivities.

COMPLIMENTARY BALL.—The members of the Washington Guard announce that they will give one of their pleasant social balls at the Armory Hall on the evening of May 2d. On this occasion the company will be pleased to meet as large a number of their friends as may desire to participate in the festivities of the evening.

FESTIVAL.—The festival given by the ladies of Multnomah Lodge last night was well attended and the fair ones served up refreshments in the shape of oysters, ice cream coffee etc in such a bewitching style that everybody partook and seemed to enjoy themselves.

MAY HOP.—The colored citizens' May Hop, to be given under the direction of Mr C J Graham, the well known prompter at Philharmonic Hall, on the 2d proximo will be an enjoyable affair undoubtedly.

SEASON TO CLOSE.—The present theatrical season will close at Oro Fino Theater, on next Saturday evening. Although the past seasons have been financial successes, it is a question not easily determined whether a spring and summer season can be made remunerative enough to warrant its inauguration. During the fall and winter months there is generally a larger influx of transient population than at any other portion of the season. In Portland theater goers are confined to a certain class, who from combined motives of inclination and interest attend the places of amusement. This class alone generally patronize the theater. When there are numerous transient comers and goers—pleasure seekers tourists, travelers etc—this burden if such it can be called is more uniformly distributed, and permanent residents are not made to feel so sensibly the continual drain of sustaining a theatrical troupe. Generally the transient population are supporters of the drama. As yet, Portland has not acquired that amount and element of population, which will remuneratively maintain a theater throughout the year. When that time arrives and we all earnestly believe it is not remote the natural ebb and flow of travel will not produce any material difference and the constant support of a troupe will cease to become a vexed problem with theatrical managers. For the last three years at irregular intervals, theaters have been supported here with varied success—sometimes well paying the management, and again proving a losing enterprise. During that time a very fair class of actors have represented the histrionic art. Some very good troupes have contributed to the elevation of the dramatic taste and some of an inferior school have also presented their claims to this public. An idea can be formed of the amount of patronage required to manage successfully a theatrical season when the average cost per week ranges from seven to nine hundred dollars. At this estimate over one hundred dollars must be taken in every night or else the manager runs behind. It is scarcely to be expected that during the coming spring and summer season this sum can be nightly realized. A good troupe with proper management can meet with a very fair measure of patronage eight months out of the twelve. Until this city possesses a permanent population of fifteen thousand souls can a theater be sustained throughout the whole year. And this number of population Portland will most assuredly have within the next two years. Then with the additional auxiliary of a magnificent theater already in process of construction lovers of the fine art will have a source of legitimate profitable amusement all the year round. Mr Waldron's present troupe is one of the very best which have yet visited this city at any time and we can truthfully add in conclusion that while this city has patronized to perhaps the extent of her limited ability the merits of the company have entitled them to a more liberal and hearty support than has been extended.

Lee at Gettysburg

The March number of Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine contains an eulogistic article on Robert E Lee, written evidently by an ardent sympathizer with the "Lost Cause" and one well versed in the military art. As usual with critics whose bias leans strongly to the rebel side, the late Confederate General s ranked as one of the chief military commanders of modern times a claim however which the writer fails to substantiate even when accepting his statements as accurate a course not warranted in the light of facts the writer carefully ignored

But our object at this time if not to controvert the estimate placed upon General Lee whose genius if not equal to a Wellington or a Napoleon or to come down to the present epoch to a Sherman or a Thomas or even his own lieutenant Stonewall Jackson was yet sufficient to override and prick the inflated reputations of the earlier Federal commanders The eulogist whose acquaintance with "grand strategy" is clearly shown despite his misconceptions concedes that his favorite committed two serious and fatal blunders The first was in neglecting to "use up" General Burnside after the battle of Fredericksburg December 13 1862 The second was at Gettysburg

With reference to the first mistake as here claimed, it is only necessary to say that there exists a doubt in the minds of many Union soldiers present on that occasion as to the ability of the rebel commander had he been ever so vigilant and aggressive to execute the "using-up" process But the most interesting feature of the article in question is the explanation of Lee s mistake at Gettysburg—a mistake which the writer says Lee frequently admitted after the war and never ceased to deplore to the day of his death Indeed we are told that his maladroit manipulation of the Confederate army during the Gettysburg campaign was to Lee a matter of ceaseless self reproach He blamed himself for not acting upon Longstreet s advice on the eve of the second day of the battle which was to take the route to Washington and Baltimore, via the Emmetsburg road

The writer, with characteristic unfairness asserts that Meade s strong position was a matter of accident "and in no degree his own deliberate choice" This is the reverse of the truth The occupation of Cemetery Hill there is abundant evidence for saying was the result of the true military skill and the presence of the Union Generals in command before the arrival of Meade and promptly recognized by that officer when he came upon the field, Lee s mistake was in attacking this position instead of choosing his own ground as this writer in Blackwood's claims he could have done, by following Longstreet s advice and as a regard for the wise maxims of Napoleon would have enabled him to do

These admissions of poor generalship are remarkable for two things First they are made by a sympathizer with the rebellion, and possibly a participant—certainly an intimate friend of the rebel General Second they are fatal to Lee s claim to rank among the great military commanders of modern times —Boston Journal

Gilmore in the Shade

[From the N Y Evening Mail]

Herr Gilmoretig an American citizen of German extraction, has developed the following stupendously magnificent programme for a Peace Jubilee thinking the Gilmorean plan unfortunately inadequate to the overwhelming importance of such a boundlessly interesting occasion The entire population of the world is to be divided into four parts The first part is to form a financial and executive committee and will be composed of the largest capitalists and best business men in every nation They will form a joint stock company with a capital of five billion dollars Their first step will be to lay a Pacific submarine cable It is of course very appropriate to have a Pacific cable for a Peace Jubilee The next step will be a wire over the R[illegible]an steppes and down to Hindoostan Tartary, Central Africa, Australia Persia, Greenland, Madagascar and Patagonia and a portion of uninhabited Central Arabia The Committee will build 5 000 music halls on the latest acoustic principles the smallest building will seat 50 000 persons so that the seated audience will number 250 000 000 at the smallest computation They will also build ten manufactories of musical instruments and three foundries that will turn out the cannon to be used at the festival Ten printing houses will furnish the music programmes and tickets No posters will be needed, as all the world will know about it.

The second great subdivision will form the "Musical Committee, to be composed of all the prominent leaders and teachers in the world. Three years will be devoted to preliminary squabbling And in order to save delay the jealousies of the solo singers will be arranged at the same time Gilmore however will be finally elected director in chief

The festival will last one month during which time all business will be entirely suspended in all parts of the globe Of those thirty days fifteen will be devoted to Universal concerts in which all the world will sing at once the same music—the beating being done in Boston and communicated by telegraph The other fifteen days will be devoted to repose and to national concerts

One great feature of the festival will be the introduction of the brute creation The birds will sing soprano Animals of the feline genus will sustain the tenor The canine species will carry the contralto parts while the bovine animals will execute the bass The leaders will be respectively a nightingale a cat, a dog, and a bull These are preferred to the wild animals as being docile, although the latter have a greater compass and volume
